Parliamentarians for Nuclear Non-Proliferation and Disarmament

Arabic representatives from parliamentarians of the United Nations, the United States, and other countries have sent a message to the President of Egypt, expressing their support for the establishment of a nuclear arms-free zone in the Middle East and for the implementation of the initiative of President Obama at the Conference of Nuclear Security in The Hague.

The representatives emphasized their commitment to supporting the implementation of the non-proliferation and disarmament efforts in the Middle East and expressed their readiness to work closely with the Egyptian government and other countries to achieve this goal.

The representatives also called for the establishment of a mechanism for定期 dialogue between the Egyptian government, the United Nations, and other countries to discuss the implementation of the non-proliferation and disarmament efforts in the region.

The representatives emphasized the need for a comprehensive and inclusive approach to address the issue of nuclear non-proliferation and disarmament in the Middle East, and called for the involvement of all relevant stakeholders, including civil society organizations and the private sector.

The representatives also called for the establishment of a regional center for nuclear non-proliferation and disarmament, to be based in Egypt, to support the implementation of the non-proliferation and disarmament efforts in the region.

The representatives concluded by expressing their readiness to work closely with the Egyptian government and other countries to achieve the goal of establishing a nuclear arms-free zone in the Middle East.
